State Director

June 30, 1961

Honorable Farris Bryant
Governor of Florida
The Capitol
Tallahassee, Florida

Dear Governor Bryant:

We call this report THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE to remind interested citizens that this is their department, their program.

The program has been curtailed, necessarily, and the department's effectiveness hampered, by the limited staff authorized by the legislature.

Our board deeply appreciates the interest and concern shown by you, and by other elected officials, for the many unfortunate citizens of our state.

We are confident that, by the next biennium, we will rise to meet the challenge of Florida's growing welfare problems.

Sincerely,

J. Hal Stallings
Chairman, State Welfare Board

FLORIDA'S PUBLIC WELFARE PROGRAM is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare which, in turn, is governed by the State Welfare Board with twelve district boards responsible to it on an area basis. The State Welfare Board is composed of one member from each Congressional District, plus one from the State at large, appointed by the Governor for 4-year overlapping terms and confirmed by the Senate. Members of the district welfare boards are also appointed by the Governor, two or more from each county in the district in proportion to population. The state and district board members serve without compensation, but are reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of official duties. The program is supported by appropriations authorized by the State Legislature and supplemented by federal funds in the event that conditions prescribed by the Social Security Act are complied with. These conditions are intended to insure fair and equitable distribution of funds, and leave the responsibility of administration entirely with the State. The State Welfare Act gives the department broad responsibilities for caring for needy persons, for making and carrying out plans for the permanent rehabilitation of persons in need of care, and for providing certain necessary social services for troubled families and children.

FUNCTIONS OF THE STATE WELFARE BOARD

The State Welfare Board as the governing body of the State Department of Public Welfare exercises the supervisory, regulatory, and policy making powers of the Department. It is charged with the responsibility of administering, or causing to be administered, all social welfare carried on by the use of joint federal and state funds, and may cooperate with counties and cities in administering their welfare services. It employs an administrator designated as the State Welfare Director to carry out its decisions. The district welfare boards have a supervisory function in twelve districts of the state, with the responsibility of supervising the administration within their areas in carrying out the rules, regulations, and policies adopted by the State Board for the Department. The Act also gives responsibility to the State Welfare Board, acting through its district boards, to determine the amount of money within the limitations fixed by law that applicants may receive. This amount is determined by (1) the money appropriated by the Legislature; (2) number of eligible applicants; (3) the extent of need of each eligible person.

this is the goal

That each person who comes to this department will be helped to develop new or better ways to help himself: That each person will be helped to find in the services of the department, in the community he lives in, in his relations with other people, or within himself, the resources to make the most of his own capability.

THE PUBLIC DISCUSSIONS

At the State Welfare Board's first meeting of the year, in Tampa, the chairman of the Florida Legislative Council, and members of the steering committee of the council's committee on health and welfare, discussed issues and problems with the State Welfare Board. At the state board's next meeting, representatives of community chests, united funds, welfare planning councils, county welfare departments, the county commissioners' association, and the district welfare boards' association, also discussed basic legislative proposals with the board.

An outstanding deficiency in the department's program, the board members had long agreed, is the authorization for staff. This hamstrings the department's work in all its programs. The board adopted this resolution to help make this clear.

WHEREAS, The salary level of the department is proved to be lower than the current level of any other agency under the merit system, except one; and,

WHEREAS, The 5% limit on pay increases set by the 1959 Legislature prevented hundreds of employees from getting pay increases they had planned on; and,

WHEREAS, Increased demands on department's staff to help dependent children, under the new suitable home law, to serve the aged and handicapped, and to give protection, care and guidance to troubled children, came at the same time that salary improvements appeared virtually impossible; and,

WHEREAS, This combination of events resulted in a loss of experienced staff members, and a damaged employee morale, to the extent that 480 employees left the department in the first 15 months of this biennium; and,

WHEREAS, Some services to recipients, particularly the aged, the blind, and the disabled, had to be curtailed; and,

WHEREAS, The 5% limit on salary increases, and the practice of hiring a new employee at a beginning salary to replace a worker who left the job at a more advanced salary, combine to create a residuum of uncommitted salary funds; and,

WHEREAS, In the eight months remaining in the biennium, the department's ability to hold a competent staff will deteriorate critically, if there is no relief; and,

WHEREAS, The legislature did provide a remedy for critical salary problems rising out of the limitations set in the 1959-61 appropriation act:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the State Welfare Board and the twelve District Boards of the State of Florida do petition the State Budget Commission to authorize the release of salary funds appropriated to the department for the immediate installation of revised pay schedules based on the 1960 merit system pay survey where prevented by these salary limitations; and,

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED, that this resolution be a matter of public record of the Department of Public Welfare, and be distributed accordingly, to the interested officials of the state.

STATE WELFARE BOARD

The board then drew its legislative program in sufficient detail to draft the legislative budget for 1961-1963. This legislative program and budget was the end product of months of meetings of committees and subcommittees among the district boards and the state board; it grew out of debates, opinions, and compromise, based on a knowledge of Florida and all its welfare activities. Almost a year of work, by hundreds of knowledgeable Floridians, brought forth this program. Here it is, each item followed by a summary of the results.

1. AID TO DEPENDENT CHILDREN -- Higher grants; all grants in the same percent of need that the appropriation is a percent of the total amount needed; no family maximum; the vendor payment for acquiring prescribed medicines be extended to include Aid to Dependent Children recipients.

THE RESULT: No change in amount of grants; permissive authority to extend vendor payments for prescribed medicines to Aid to Dependent Children recipients, but no extra funds for this.

2. INCREASE IN STAFF -- To continue the department's services at a competent level of performance, 518 more employees needed; to continue department's services at current level of accomplishment only 193 more employees needed.

THE RESULT: No increase in staff authorized.

3. CHILD WELFARE SERVICES -- For increased protection, care, and guidance services to children whose homes have failed them, throughout the state, an increase in funds was recommended.

THE RESULT: No increase.

4. GRANTS TO THE AGED, BLIND, DISABLED -- Adequate funds for grants with some improvements in basic allowances recommended.

THE RESULT: Appropriation sufficient to continue same level of grants based on unchanged allowances.

5. VENDOR PAYMENTS FOR NURSING HOME CARE -- Additional funds for payments for care, averaging $150 per month.

THE RESULT: No action.

6. ADOPTION PLACEMENT SERVICES -- Recommendation for the department to offer this new service.

THE RESULT: Bill failed of passage at adjournment.

7. FUNDS FOR INVESTIGATIONS FOR STATE MENTAL HOSPITALS -- This service is required by Chapter 965, Florida statutes.

THE RESULT: No action.

8. FUNDS FOR STUDIES FOR THE SUNLAND TRAINING CENTERS -- This service is required by Chapter 965, Florida statutes.

THE RESULT: No action.

9. INVESTIGATIONS FOR THE CIRCUIT COURTS IN CHILD CUSTODY CASES, ON REQUEST -- Authorized by Chapter 62, Florida statutes.

THE RESULT: No action.

10. CIVIL DEFENSE; EMERGENCY WELFARE SERVICES -- Services to the State Civil Defense Council, required by Chapter 252, Florida statutes.

THE RESULT: No action.

11. FOSTER HOME CARE FOR 300 ADULTS -- A demonstration program.

THE RESULT: No action.

12. HOMEMAKER SERVICE FOR ADULTS IN FOUR COUNTIES -- A demonstration program.

THE RESULT: No action.

13. ON-THE-JOB-TRAINING, ORIENTATION, AND SCHOLARSHIPS -- To enable the department's staff to improve the way the job is done.

THE RESULT: Scholarship funds provided.

14. A PERMISSIVE RECOVERY LAW -- A method of recovering funds from the estates of deceased, former recipients.

THE RESULT: No action.

15. RELATIVE RESPONSIBILITY -- To have the relative responsibility provision now in the Aid to the Disabled program apply to all assistance programs or to none.

THE RESULT: No action.

16. DISTRICT BOARD MEMBERSHIP -- Stabilizing membership on district boards as of the 1950 census.

THE RESULT: The proposal became law.

17. BOARD MEMBER EXPENSES -- To remove the maximum $1,200 on the reimbursement allowed for necessary expenses of the Chairman of the State Welfare Board.

THE RESULT: The proposal became law.

In addition, the legislature appropriated a hundred thousand dollars for the department to arrange for the interested counties to distribute to needy people foods donated by the federal government.

The legislature also enacted that up to $750 in cash value of life insurance shall be disregarded when computing resources in Old Age Assistance cases.

During the legislative session, it began to appear that the appropriations being considered by the committees were not going to be enough. At its May meeting, the State Welfare Board called this to public attention with the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The State Department of Public Welfare, as required by Law, presented to the Legislature, through the State Budget Commission, a request for funds to administer during the 1961-63 biennium a work program which did not envision any expansion or addition to the presently approved program, and

WHEREAS, The State Welfare Board has carefully considered the funds recommended by the State Budget Commission, and proposed by both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees for the 1961-63 biennium, and

WHEREAS, The Welfare Board has found the proposed funds to be inadequate for the continuation of the present program of the State Welfare Department on a current basis, and

WHEREAS, The Welfare Department, on May 9, 1961, indicated to the Legislature that to conduct properly its operations, such as the processing of pending applications which at the time of this RESOLUTION number 9,700, and to provide services, an additional one hundred ninety-three (193) positions will be required.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the State Welfare Board go on record with the Legislature that in order for the department to administer the present programs, and to provide present services in a manner which will be satisfactory to the Legislature, as well as to the public, it is imperative that the minimum requirements considered necessary by the department, and previously furnished the chairman of the appropriations committees of both the House and the Senate, be appropriated.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this RESOLUTION be spread upon the minutes of this meeting and copies furnished the Honorable Farris Bryant, Governor, State of Florida; the Honorable Randolph Hodges, President, State Senate; the Honorable William Chappell, Speaker of the House of Representatives; the Honorable F. Wilson Carraway, Chairman, Senate Appropriations Committee; and the Honorable J. J. Griffin, Jr., Chairman, House of Representatives Appropriations Committee.

Respectfully submitted:

STATE WELFARE BOARD
May 18, 1961

At its last meeting of this fiscal year, the State Welfare Board approved a budget based on the appropriation of the 1961 Legislature. Though this budget was about five million dollars above the amount spent during 1960-1961, most of the increases were in benefits to the aged and the board predicted that some other services would have to be cut.

The basic law of the State Department of Public Welfare requires that programs be planned to take maximum advantage of the fund matching provisions of the federal law. The department's operating budget is based on this. In choosing which services to eliminate, all being equally important, the services which do not earn federal matching funds are the first to face the economy knife.

For this reason, during the first weeks of the coming fiscal year 1961-1962, it appears that some valuable services will have to be cut out of the program.

The steady flow of Cuban families, and unattached individuals, into Southern Florida over a number of months became an overwhelming burden on city and county welfare services. After hurried studies by the representatives of the office of the President of the United States, and the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Secretary Abraham Ribicoff of that department conferred with Governor Farris Bryant to plan an assistance program, using federal funds. The Governor offered Florida's welfare department to administer emergency financial relief and child welfare services, to begin in February 1961.

This department's Cuban Refugee Assistance Office opened with a bilingual staff of 17. That first week, assistance checks were issued to over 2,000 families. Within a month the staff had grown to 29 people and assistance checks had been issued to over 3,000 families, about 7,000 people in all.

In April a staff of 15 Cuban workers was added to distribute surplus commodities donated by the federal government. By the end of the fiscal year, they were distributing foods to 5,718 families, including 13,167 people, and had given out $248,851 worth of foods, wholesale value.

By the end of the fiscal year, the department had a staff of 80 administering services to Cuban refugees. Assistance checks alone were being issued to over 7,000 needy refugee families, about 15,000 persons.

REPATRIATED AMERICANS, SERVICES

The department also is administering a federally financed service to aid repatriated citizens of the United States of America to resettle themselves in their home.

EMERGENCY WELFARE SERVICES

As the year drew to a close, the department signed an agreement with the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare on civil defense. The State Welfare Board had regularly, since 1951, affirmed its acceptance of responsibility for emergency welfare services in Florida. But, this new agreement officially recognized the department's direct line of responsibility in local, state, and national planning.

To enhance understanding of the present meaning of emergency welfare services, here is the official definition:

"Emergency Welfare Services" means feeding; clothing; housing or lodging in private and congregate facilities; registration; locating and reuniting families; care of unaccompanied children, the aged, the handicapped, and other groups needing specialized care or service; necessary financial or other assistance; counseling and referral services to families and individuals; aid to welfare institutions under national emergency or post-attack conditions; and all other feasible welfare aid and services to people in need during a civil defense emergency. Emergency welfare services also include the organization, direction, and provision of services to be instituted before an anticipated attack, in the event of strategic or tactical evacuation, and after any such attack.

It is to carry out this meaning that the department has agreed. Ironically, this formal acceptance of responsibility coincides with the most critical staff shortage in a number of years. The department finds it impossible to do anything concrete about the agreement except to affirm its responsibility.

HURRICANE DONNA

In three days, Donna damaged an estimated three hundred million dollars worth of property in thirty-five Florida counties. Thousands were temporarily homeless. According to the standard operating procedures under which the department works in a natural disaster, or impending natural disaster, the department's staff members first assured themselves that the people already dependent on the department for services were as well cared for as possible. Then they pitch in to help. The department's staff members are volunteered by the department to administer the Emergency Services of Red Cross. In Monroe, Dade, Broward, St. Lucie, Collier, Lee, Charlotte, DeSoto, and Hardee counties, department employees worked, some throughout the passage of the storm.

While the winds were still high, the department primed the food "pipelines" from the federal storage depots to the distressed areas. Supplies were ready for processing and delivery as soon as it was safe for people to come out of shelter and go to work at the Red Cross distribution points.

When regular Red Cross employees and volunteers were able to take over, the department's staff members were able to return to their regular jobs, helping dependent people whose lives continually verge on personal disaster.

The American National Red Cross commended the work of the department in the disaster.

public assistance

Nursing home care for the aged, provided by the vendor payment method, was the outstanding improvement in the public assistance program during the year. Previously, recipients had only the assistance check to purchase the nursing home care. In most cases the monthly $66 maximum welfare check purchased less than half a month of decent nursing care.

In 1955 this department and the State Board of Health, which licenses nursing homes, studied the cost of nursing home care, with the cooperation of the Florida Nursing Home Association. They discovered that the minimum cost averaged $156 a month. Since then the cost has gone up to $175, just enough for decent care which does not degrade the patient. But, it does not include the cost of rehabilitative or restorative therapy which can help many patients.

Amendments to the federal Social Security Act this fiscal year increased the fund matching ratios for medical services for the aged. As directed by the State Welfare Act, to take advantage of federal funds, the department moved immediately to purchase care from nursing home operators for old age recipients. The State Board of Health and the Nursing Home Association cooperated actively to develop the plan. The proposal to make "vendor payments," up to $100 a month, was approved by the State Budget Commission, and went into effect in January. The recipients affected also receive a welfare check for $10 to cover personal incidentals.

This $100 is still not enough. The minimum cost still averages $175; and the vendor payment applies only to Old Age Assistance, not to Aid to the Blind and not to Aid to the Disabled. The $66 check, and prescribed medicines, is still the only help the department can give them. But, the picture is improved.

The same change in federal fund matching ratios also made it possible to return tranquilizers and therapeutic vitamins to the list of approved medicines which the department may purchase for recipients. And, hospitalization benefits were returned from twelve to thirty days.

Another amendment to the federal Social Security Act required a change in the way earned income is counted in Aid to the Blind. Formerly the first $50 of earned income was disregarded. Now the first $85 is disregarded plus one half of all other earned income. This applies only to Aid to the Blind.

To make policies more equitable, the State Welfare Board changed the amount of liquid resources (not including homestead) that recipients may have. Formerly one person could have $600, but the limit for two persons was $900. The limit for two was raised to $1,200. In Aid to Dependent Children it was increased from $125 to $250 per child, not to exceed $1,200 for a sibling group.

The state board also approved, on the recommendation of the board's medical advisory committee, that prescriptions issued by chiroprodists and podiatrists be approved under the vendor payment for prescribed medicine program.

The board also provided a 90 day grace period in cases where a reassessment of non-homestead real estate would make a recipient ineligible.

During the year, the demand for Child Welfare Services grew faster than the department could meet it. This demand is twofold: first, for a greater quantity of services to more and more children; and second, for services that are more effective in preventing future difficulties. As one way to meet these demands, training activities were emphasized for the department's own staff, and were also extended to other institutions and agencies with which the department works closely in serving children.

The statistics in the back of this report carry only part of the department's experience -- the work done. They do not reveal the cases where a need for service is recognized but not given. In general, Child Welfare Services were able to meet only about half of the demand. The department's difficulty in hiring and holding trained staff also contributes to the inability to meet this demand, as does the fact that the department simply has not a supply of funds adequate to pay for the care so many children need.

In one training session, a staff member from the Child Welfare League of America met with the 12 district directors and the child welfare staff to study foster home care. The league had recently published an exhaustive foster care study and this was the basis of the three day session. Later, the child welfare supervisors of the 17 child welfare units began their regular training program.

Another training project was experimental in nature. It was a five day, intensive session with a small group of social workers. The members of the group then went back to their jobs. Later they evaluated their work in the light of that training.

The child welfare division also performed a time study of emergency shelter care practices in the state. The results can be used for programming, for staff planning, and for the supervision of workers.

A pilot project of homemaker's service was started in an urban community. It offers round-the-clock emergency care service for children. It also demonstrates a way to preserve a child's home environment when he might otherwise have to leave home.

Homemakers are regular employees of the department, under the merit system, and are pioneering a service seldom seen in Florida. This project may develop improved ways to strengthen family life. It may help mothers who are overwhelmed with personal responsibilities, or free them to obtain needed medical attention, or teach home management to mothers of children who are receiving Aid to Dependent Children.

Early in the year, the department opened its third specialized foster home for disturbed children. This one is a home for girls, in Miami. These homes are unique in Florida. They give children who cannot live in their own homes, or in regular foster homes, an opportunity to live with a small group, and to receive help with their problems.

Cooperation with other agencies helps all children to be served better. Voluntary child caring and child placing agencies, the juvenile courts, and the houseparents of the several institutions for children around the state have all cooperated with the department in seeking to improve their services. The department has been able to extend to workers in these fields some of its 30 years experience. Individuals from some of these groups were also helped by the department to go to summer schools for advanced study and to share in other training activities.
